

- ▶ Reporting & Analytics
- ▶ Dispatch Software
- ▶ Passenger Information
- ▶ Digital Signs

TRANSIT CALIFORNIA

Issue No. 92 | December 2018

In This Issue

Community Spirit

Lasting Legacy

On Board With

Cover Story

Consensus and Transparency

As they tackle the reimagining and redesigning of their service networks, transit agencies are utilizing both modern and old-fashioned strategies to assure that riders and community stakeholders have a voice in the process.

READ MORE >

Featured Story

Community Spirit

Partnering with a variety of organizations, transit agencies across California play an important role in bringing holiday cheer and much-needed relief while building community connections.

Read More

Choose your level of electrification

From electric accessories to zero-emission propulsion

hybridrive.com

BAE SYSTEMS

Featured Story

Lasting Legacy

The Santa Monica City Council honors outgoing councilmember Pam O'Connor, who is also leaving her position on the Association's Executive Committee, on which she has served since 2009.

Read More

BYD

INNOVATIVE ELECTRIC TRANSPORTATION

TRANSFORM YOUR CITY FUEL THE FUTURE

On Board With...

Dana Pynn

A pivotal contributor to the Association's legislative program discusses elevating the organization's presence at the federal level and some of the policy priorities foreseen for the coming year.

Read More

BALLARD

Zero emission mobility without compromise

Powered by hydrogen fuel cell - zero emission

Ballard FCveloCity® fuel cell power modules improve performance of transit buses with longer range and fast refueling.

www.ballard.com zeroemissionbus.org

Member News Library

BART and San Francisco MTA partner to install canopies over entrances to underground stations, LA Metro contemplates an innovative new route to Dodger Stadium, and longtime transit leader Art Leahy plans for retirement.

Read More